Nordstrom Low Bidder On Contract To Build Grade School Addition

Building to Cost But $11 Square Foot—Other Bids Are Low

Ray Nordstrom of Fox Lake was low bidder on the general contract for the construction of the addition to the Antioch Consolidated Grade School building.

His bid of $115,850 with an alternate of $1,700 was $10,439 less than the next lowest bid and $81,650 under the highest of the 10 bidders.

The plumbing contract was awarded to Stiles and Horn of Waukegan, lowest of five bidders based on the combined bid and alternate. The bid was $12,500 with an alternate of $415, whereas Hotham and Koetz of Zion, while $67 lower on the prime bid, was $285 higher on the alternate bid which was considered. The highest combined bid was $22,953.

Lester Hamlin of Lake Villa was the lowest of three bidders on the electrical contract. His bid was $12,400 which was $4,100 under the next lowest bidder.

Hans Jensen, Chicago, was the lowest bidder on the heating contract with an offer of $15,120, but the board chose to investigate the bidders and offers before awarding the contract. There were eight bids.

Nordstrom, the general contractor built the most recent addition to the grade school and had built the Gavin, Grayslake, and other school additions in this area. He will be instructed to begin work at once.

The board will meet this evening to complete its work on the contracts.

Supt. Richard Whitacre said that the board is well pleased with the result of the bidding and that the total is well within the budget. The total construction work will approximate $157,585. Beyond that there will be architect, legal, and other fees.

It was estimated that the cost will be $11 a square foot which is regarded as low.

Antioch Nearly Doubles Cancer Fund Objectives

Antioch nearly doubled its quota in the Cancer Fund drive, Louise Keulman, chairman announced yesterday.

The total, $1,168.88 was just 194 per cent of the $600 set as Antioch's goal, and this community was third highest in Lake County in percentage the chairman was told.

Receipts were as follows: Mail contributions, $599; Tag Day, $117.21; Dance, $231; Coin cans, $209.87.

Mrs. Keulman said the co-operation of Antioch people was excellent and she was appreciative of it.

Large Crowd Attends Firemen, Rescue Squad Dance Saturday Night

A crowd far beyond the expectations of the Antioch firemen and Rescue Squad attended their dance at the Four Aces club on Rte. 173 Saturday night.

The dance served as the opening night of the new club and the attendance couldn't have been better. Customers waited turns at the 100 foot horseshoe bar and the tables were all filled.

The dance orchestra that will play regularly at the new pavilion furnished the music and the dancers said it was good. The crowd did not disperse until 5 a. m.

The local firemen and first aid organization shared the profits with the owners of the pavilion, and while the two groups did not make as much as they have done in years when they received all of the profits, the amount was considered satisfactory, and will help bear expenses of the activities during the coming year.

Poppies Will Bloom on Coat Lapels This Week As Wearers Remember

Poppies will bloom this month, not only in Flanders fields, but on the streets of Antioch, where the annual Poppy Day sale will open at 6 p. m. Friday, May 22 and last through Saturday, May 23.

These are the red cloth poppies made by wounded veterans, and sold to aid them, the Gold Star Mother, the lonely widow, the child deprived of his father and many others. They await this help—those helpless on the hospital bed, and those in cheerless lonely homes.

Editorial

Every day that passes, bringing us additional casualties on the battlefields of Korea, increases the importance of placing an American Legion and Auxiliary Poppy over every American heart on Poppy Day, 1953.

For the ranks of the war dead to which these brave red flowers pay tribute have swollen markedly since last Memorial Day. So have the needs of war's living victims—the disabled veterans, the war widows and orphans, for whom the coins brought in by the Memorial Poppy finance our programs of Rehabilitation and Child Welfare.

Let each remembering heart be marked by a Memorial Poppy on Poppy Day. Let each one who wears a Poppy know its full significance as a tribute to the immortal sacrifice of our war dead.

Permit Now Necessary To Start Grass Fire; Penalty Up To $50.00

Fire Department Expense for District was $1,100 Last Quarter

A new law passed Tuesday evening by officials of the Antioch Fire District now compels all residents of the district to get a permit from the Antioch fire chief before a grass fire can be started.

In applying for the permit the applicant must state the number of watchers he will have; describe the location and whether it is a hazard to other property, and finally guarantee to pay damages to other property consumed and the cost of the fire call if the fire gets out of control.

The fire chief may then give the permit for a specified time.

Failure to obey the law may lead to a fine up to $50.

The district decided to pass the ordinance after grass fires made up the bulk of the expense of fire calls which totaled $1,100 during the three months ending May 1.

Edward C. Jacobs, attorney for the fire district, who drew up the ordinance on instruction of the board, said that the new law does not apply to the burning of trash.

The bill for fire department services was one of the largest in the history of the district. The amount was appropriated.

Antioch Finishes 4th In Conference Meet; Palatine Is Winner

Antioch High's track team finished fourth in the Northwest conference meet at Palatine yesterday.

A queer trick of fate kept one of the members of the relay team from attending the meet and that single factor was enough for the team to lose a race and with it third place.

Palatine was first, Wauconda, second; and Grayslake third. Elia, Bensenville and Grant finished behind Antioch in that order.

Charles Bock won the shot put with a heave of 46 feet, 8 inches, and the discus hurl with 129 feet.

David Petty tied for third place in the high hurdles and tied for fourth place in the low hurdles. Gallagher tied for second in the 440-yard dash, and Behrendt got fifth in the 220-yard dash.

In the mile medley relay Antioch was third, and in the 880 relay, fourth by one-tenth second behind the third place winner. A better showing there would have meant third place in the meet for the Sequoias.

The missing runner sought a ride into Antioch and was taken to Millburn instead, causing him to miss both the meet and a chance of winning his letter.

Local Persons Objects Of Dram Shop Action

C. E. Gaffey, operator of Bussie's tavern and Blanche E. Kiefer and Addie E. Zimmerman, owners of the building in which the tavern is situated in Antioch, were made defendants in a $45,000 dram shop action as the result of an automobile accident on Rte. 173 a year ago.

The plaintiffs are Mrs. Emma Louise McGaughey, Foss Acres, Great Lakes, and her children, Gregory, and Wanda Lou, survivors of Lt. Cmdr. Malcolm W. McGaughey, World War II veteran. Each of the plaintiffs asks $15,000.

According to the complaint, McGaughey and Thompson Willson, 32, of Waukegan, purchased drinks in the tavern before their accident, Feb. 29, 1952.

Assessor Tells Tardy Persons to Mail Tax Forms Immediately

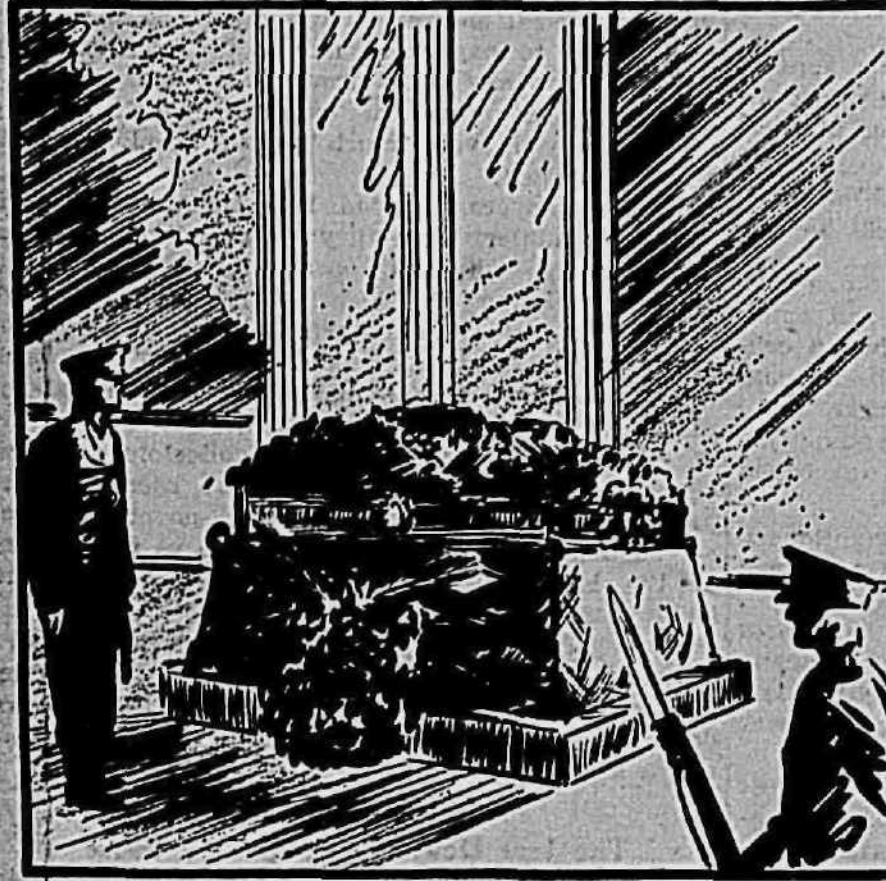

Twp. Assessor John Miller today reminded many citizens of the township that they have not as yet returned their personal property forms that were due May 15.

Miller said that 2,500 forms were mailed out and 350 were returned as having moved or not having been found.

Business men will be called upon and do not have to mail their forms. The 200 farmers are co-operating nicely as they are called upon. Seven hundred and fifty others have responded.

There probably are nearly 800, however, who have not mailed their filled-out forms. A penalty may be imposed if they do not get them in.

Wrestling Show at Zion Includes Two Midgits

A furious tag team match, featuring men of four countries, is on tap for the all star muscle card at the Zion-Benton High school gymnasium next Saturday.

Billy Goetz, of Fox Lake, recognized as Junior heavyweight champion of the middle west, joins Frankie Hart of Canada in waging war against Japan's Tor Yamato and Poland's Al Warshawsky. They'll support the Pat O'Connor-Mighty Atlas headliner, but chances are they'll deliver as much punishment and perhaps draw a goodly share of the expected full house.

The Jaycees of Zion are promoting the show, which also includes a pair of midgits, Fuzzy Cupid of Rhode Island and Sallie Halasie of Ethiopia, pounding at bodies that scale about 100 pounds each.

Mayhem is slated to begin at 8:30 p. m.

The bill for Korean war veterans extends the loan guaranty benefits of the World War II G. I. bill to veterans with service since June 27, 1950.

In Lake county, veterans should contact the Illinois Veterans Commission service office at 221 W. Washington street in Waukegan.

Farmers Report Good Conditions for Crops Busy Planting Corn

Cool weather, with just enough rain to keep the ground in good condition and to nourish the plants has proved ideal for oats and pastures in the Antioch area.

Rain over the weekend prepared the soil so that farmers were able to continue their corn planting. The ground had become a little dry.

An estimated 25 per cent of the corn has been planted.

The only trouble the farmers have had this spring so far is the appearance of aphids in the alfalfa. The cool weather has been conducive to the pest.

Residents of Lake Villa reported some hail during the rain in the early part of the week.

Long-Term Bargain

In terms of money, industrial progress appears to be extremely expensive. Huge sums must be poured into machines and plants and other physical facilities.

But, in the long run, this kind of progress is "cheap," measured in terms of savings and various advantages which result.

The railroads present a first-class example. They have been carrying on a sustained and accelerating improvement program for more than a century. Gigantic amounts of money have been spent to make their operations faster, safer, surer, more extensive. In late years alone their spending for physical betterment and expansion has exceeded the $1,000,000,000 per annum level.

As a result of it, there has been a revolutionary gain in railroad efficiency. Waste has been outlawed. Today the railroads pay much more for wages, taxes, and goods and services of all kinds than they paid before the last world war. But the average revenue they receive for hauling a ton-mile of freight is less in relation to other prices and to taxes, than it was before that war.

The point is, that despite the huge dollar cost of expanding and improving basic enterprise, progress is a long-term bargain for all concerned, particularly the customer.

In a Nutshell

Fulton Lewis, Jr., devoted one of his recent columns to some of the financial aspects of socialized business, using the Tennessee Valley Authority as an example. If you're a taxpayer, you should be interested in his conclusion:

"For the years 1948 through 1952 private electric companies would have paid in taxes approximately $118,781,000 on the business done by TVA and its distributing municipalities and cooperatives. TVA, instead, paid $29,722,775 in lieu of taxes during the same period."

End of a Co-op

The Mercury, of Medford, Massachusetts, recently devoted an editorial to the closing of a co-operative food store. It pointed out that many people joined the co-op and paid dues, in the belief that the venture would be successful and profitable to the membership.

Even so, it failed. One reason for the failure was defalcation by a former manager. But there were other and more basic reasons. In the Mercury's words, "The project had not been doing too well, interest in it was lagging; and the advent of super-markets with their great varieties of food stuffs and competing prices served to dampen any rush of budget-conscious housewives to the relatively tiny and ill-stocked shop on Boston avenue."

W. S. C. S. will meet with the Twilight Guild Thursday at the home of Miss Anna Kroncke.

Some co-op stores are doing well. But, as a general rule, modern mass-merchandising, as practiced both by the chains and progressive independents in all lines of retail trade, has changed the picture tremendously. Competition forces these merchants to give the best value possible for each dollar spent with them.

Dividing the Customer's Dollar

Who gets the most out of each dollar that customers spend with American business?

The answer varies substantially from business to business, of course. But it is commonplace today for typical enterprise, and especially the larger enterprises, to pay more money to government in taxes than to any other group or agency.

Last year's financial experience of a leading oil company is very much to the point. Here is what happened:

Its employees received 14 1/2 cents out of each customer's dollar. And they were well paid indeed—the average was $5,810 per employee.

Profits came to 8 1/4 cents of each customer's dollar. But only 3 1/4 cents was paid out to the shareholders. The remainder, 4 1/2 cents was plowed back into the business to help pay for expansion and replacement of worn-out equipment.

Federal, state and local tax collectors got 18 1/2 cents out of every dollar customers spent for the products of this company. In short, government received more than five times as much as the owners of the business—and one-quarter more than the employees.

Many other companies report similar experience. Vote-seeking politicians often use attacks on business as their stock in trade. But it's the tax dollars of such businesses as this oil company that pay a large part of the huge costs of government.

The Low Down From Hickory Grove

I been thumbing around in our dictionary in the "M" section and I run into "moratorium" and you know she looks to me as if it is exactly what we been needing more of. Gee whiz, says Henry, we must be in a fix, is it something like a mortician and are we that far along and bad off. Don't get excited, I says, I will straighten you out—a five-syllable word, I can see, is pretty big for the circle in which you are in the middle of same. Well, thank you, says Henry.

A period of delay—putting something off for a while—that is a moratorium, and sisters and brothers, we have in this grand land more things that should be put on ice than has been seen since about Adam's time.

Along with postponing things like lavish Govt. spending I would also put on my moratorium list "social science" now top flight stuff on the university curriculum—likewise "psychology." All you know after graduation in either course you could put in your eye. You come out with just an opinion—possibly one that is more added than when you start. In the meantime you have just cluttered up the campus.

Gov. bargaining in where it don't know where it—but with which it is still fiddlin' and with which it said last Nov. it was finished and through, is on my taboo list, too.

Yours with the low down,
JO SERRA

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

Right reasoning and divine logic reveal Mind, not matter, as the origin and source of all that is real and eternal. This will be explained in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, June 7. The subject of the Lesson-Sermon will be: GOD THE ONLY CAUSE AND CREATOR.

The Golden Text is from Jeremiah (10:10,12) "The Lord is the true God, he is the living God, and an everlasting King: ... He hath made the earth by his power, he hath established the world by his wisdom, and hath stretched out the heavens by his discretion."

Bible selections (King James Version) in the Lesson-Sermon include:

"I have not spoken in secret, in a dark place of the earth: I said unto the seed of Jacob, Seek ye me in vain: I the Lord speak righteousness, I declare things that are right" (Isa. 45:19).

Selections from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, include:

"In the material world, thought has brought to light with great rapidity many useful wonders. With like activity have thought's swift pinions been rising towards the realm of the real, to the spiritual cause of those lower things which give impulse to inquiry ... Spiritual causation is the one question to be considered, for more than all others spiritual causation relates to human progress" (pp. 268, 170).

LAKE VILLA

The Rev. R. E. Harrison will preach at the Community church for two more Sundays before leaving for his new home in Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Langbein entertained for her sister Mrs. Traver Ellis and family of Belvidere and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Hooper at dinner on Sunday in celebration of their wedding anniversary.

Mrs. Carl Ekdahl and mother, Mrs. Lulu Lenso were Waukegan visitors on Monday.

Mrs. Arthur Nauta and her son, Arthur Nauta, Jr., and children of Waukegan were guests at the Lester Nixon home last Saturday.

Joseph Botts, Q. M. C. of U. C. Navy on the ship El Dorado now located in Japan, and Charles Hamlin, S. N., also of the Navy, on the destroyer William Seiverling, met recently at Sasebo, Japan, where both happened to be stationed. Q. M. C. Botts was an instructor at the Great Lakes Naval Station when Charles was in training there some months ago.

The W. S. C. S. of Lake Villa will entertain several guests from neighboring societies at a tea at the church on Wednesday afternoon, June 2.

Invitations to the wedding of Charles Hexom and Miss Arlys Dorothy Barth at Decorah, Iowa, have been received by friends here.

The ceremony will take place at the Big Canoe Lutheran church, of which his father is pastor, on Thursday, May 21, at 8 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bradec and Barbara spent Mother's Day with their parents in Chicago and Barbara remained with her grandmother for a time.

Mr. and Mrs. George Helm were guests of their daughter, Mrs. Walter Etchison and family in Aurora on Mother's Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Fowles of Libertyville were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kelly.

Mrs. Helen Weber and Mrs. Anna Lau went to Florida by plane last Friday and Mrs. Weber will visit Mr. and Mrs. James Connel for a few days and Mrs. Lau will spend some time with her sister and husband. They will return later by auto with Mrs. Mabel Jones of Venetian Village who has been in Florida for several months.

The spring concert given by the Lake Villa Consolidated Grade school at the school gym last Friday and Saturday evening was splendid and very well attended. It consisted of selections by the new tonette and rhythm band of the lower grades, several numbers by the chorus directed by Miss Margaret Rupp, and selections by the junior and senior bands, including some on which they won awards at the recent contest at Bloomington. The association also received a nice sum from the sale of bakery goods after the concert.

Mrs. Arlene Letting is again a patient at Condell hospital for surgery, and is recovering nicely.

The Lake Region Home Bureau held its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Delbert Sherwood on Wednesday evening this week and Mrs. Dudley Kennedy and Mrs. Edward Hevdejs gave the lesson on "Using the Sewing Machine."

Frank R. Sherwood, a former resident here, now living in Chicago, called on friends here during a few days stay and also attended the concert at the school gym on Saturday evening.

Seek Educational TV Channel. Fifteen civic leaders in the Chicago area have been appointed trustees of the Chicago Educational Television association, non-profit organization seeking money to finance an educational television station of Channel 11. SHORT STORY

Plus
Love

By Montagu Betts

"YOU wouldn't be the type to marry a man for his money would you?" Ray Shelly said.

"You've had too much to drink or you wouldn't talk like that," Ede Mayfair told him.

Then, as though some subtle and mysterious force compelled him to do so, he looked up and across the crowded dance floor of the Rumanian room and into the eyes of a girl.

Ray! she cried. "How are you, darling?" Then the music started and she danced away.

Ray's thoughts were at once startlingly clear. Her name was Linda Cole. A year ago he had sat opposite her at this same table in this same night club, and she had laughed when he tried to stand up and couldn't because he'd been too drunk.

"Of course I know how it is, darling," she had smiled brightly. "You're one of the richest men in New York. You never know whether people like you for yourself or for your money. It rather puts you on a spot."

"And you want to know if I said yes I'd marry you would it be for your money?" She paused, crushed out her cigarette, smiled. "Yes," she said. "I've never had all the money I want, and I've always wanted things. You could give them to me. I love you, Ray, but I wouldn't love you if you were poor."

Days later Ray has ceased his brooding in the stateroom of a Mediterranean-bound steamer long enough to take a walk on deck. Fate must have walked with him that day, for when he rounded a corner he ran smack into a girl with ash blonde hair and wide blue eyes.

If they both hadn't been confined to the boat, Ray would have carried out his vow and never talked to another woman—at least for a week longer, and by then Ede Mayfair would have gone out of his life.

So when they got back to New York, Ray continued to see her. He didn't know he was falling in love.

So here they were tonight, almost a year after the Linda affair, sitting in the Rumanian room and Ray was pretty drunk. It was being drunk and being at the same table in the same room that made him say the same thing to Ede that he had said to Linda. He regretted it instantly because any one could tell by the look in Ede's eyes that she wasn't the Linda type at all.

The music stopped and the dancers sat down. Directly across the floor Ray could see Linda, see her looking at him, smiling, amused. He grew sullen and thoughtful, and when Ede reached across the table and covered his hand with her own, he lurched to his feet. "Gotta know," he said. "Wouldn't be happy if I didn't know." He staggered off, returning five minutes later. "Come on," he said. "Gotta know."

He led her to the room behind the bar where the gambling tables were. He introduced her to saucy Jose Fernandez, and then he explained what he was up to. He was going to gamble his entire fortune. Ede, horrified, tried to dissuade him, but the wheel was already spinning. The ball dropped, and saucy Jose informed Ray Shelly that he had just been deprived of 95 per cent of his entire fortune.

Ray scribbled something on a paper and gave it to Jose and led the way outside. Ede was crying. She couldn't meet his eyes. Chokingly she told him the horrible truth: Now that he was poor—"Oh, please try and understand, Ray. I—we couldn't be happy as poor people."

When she had left him, Ray went back to the gambling room, winked at Jose and retrieved the slip of paper. "Thanks for the favor," he said, and Jose nodded. Then Ray went out and headed for the dance floor. He was quite sober now. When he took Linda's hand in his own, ignoring her partner, he knew exactly what he was doing.

"I still love you," he said. "Does that offer still go?"

"Of course, darling," she said, smiling.

"Then it's a deal," said Ray. "You're honest. That's all that counts. A man will pay for honesty, plus love."

MINUTE MEN

THEY HURRIED OFF THEIR FARMS, OUT OF THE FORESTS, AWAY FROM HUNDREDS OF PEACEFUL HOMES, LEAVING THEIR PLOWS, THEIR AXES AND THEIR FAMILIES BEHIND, SO THEY COULD BEAR ARMS AT LEXINGTON, CONCORD AND BUNKER HILL. A GRATEFUL NATION CALLED THEM THE "MINUTE MEN"—AN EMERGENCY POOL OF CIVILIAN SOLDIERS—WHO, IN OUR TIME ARE GROUPED IN NATIONAL GUARD UNITS.

EACH WEEK, IN MORE THAN 2200 AMERICAN COMMUNITIES, THEY TROOP DOWN TO THE ARMORY OR AIR BASE AND ARE TRANSFORMED FOR A CRITICAL EVENING OF TRAINING INTO DISCIPLINED UNIFORMED UNITS.

Want to make a quick getaway?

THE nearest we can come to word-picturing for you how it feels to drive a 1953 Buick with Twin-Turbine Dynaflo* is this:

When you toe the gas treadle, you can get away like silken lightning in a silent hurry.

More specifically, you can sweep your speedometer needle from zero to a legal 30 mph in the time you normally take two breaths.

Equally important, you get this dazzling getaway with whisper quiet—and with one smooth, progressive build-up of velvety power.

The literal truth is—no other car in all the world can get away with the combined quickness, quiet and utter smoothness of a 1953 Buick with TT Dynaflo.

It takes more than the advanced new engineering of this fully automatic transmission to produce such thrilling performance, of course.

It takes power, too.

And that's here in full measure—the highest horsepower and compression ratios, Series for Series, in Buick's fifty great years—with the world's most advanced V8 engine powering the SUPER and ROADMASTER.

There's a lot more you get in any 1953 Buick in generous and hard-to-match measure—room, comfort, ride steadiness, visibility—and, above all, value.

But these are things you must discover for yourself—as you must the greatest Buick performance in history.

Why not drop in on us real soon? We'll be happy to put you at the wheel of a new Buick and let our points prove themselves.

*Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

LAKELAND BUICK - Highway 12 - Fox Lake, Illinois

Fort Belvoir, Va.—Private R. C. Inman, husband of Mrs. R. C. Inman of Corinth, Miss., former residents of Antioch, recently arrived at the Engineer Replacement Training Center, Fort Belvoir, Va.

There he is undergoing 16 weeks of basic training to qualify him as a soldier of the Corps of Engineers. The first half of the four-month course he will spend as a member of a Training company developing skills with weapons under field conditions. The remaining time is to be devoted to engineering tasks such as road, bridge and building construction; and to barbed wire obstacles, explosives, mines, camouflage and similar work.

At the close of the training period, most men will be assigned to units of the Army either overseas or in the United States.

However, men with special skills may be selected for advanced specialists courses, and those who show leadership ability may be chosen for further training to qualify them as future noncommissioned officers.

The Inmans' Antioch address was Rte. 3, Antioch.

CYO to Benefit From Arlington Polo Games; Bishop Shiel Sponsor

Polo returns to the Lake county sports scene on Memorial Day, May 30, with the first game of a holiday double header between the Arlington Farms Polo club, of Libertyville, and the Milwaukee Polo club.

Arlington Farms, which has risen to national polo prominence since it was opened to the public in 1948, will be playing under the sponsorship of the Catholic Youth Organization when it takes the field in International Polo League competition this summer.

The lush Arlington Farms club on Buckley rd. at the DesPlaines river was purchased from Leonard M. Bernard by Bishop Bernard J. Shiel and a group of Chicago businessmen several weeks ago.

Bishop Shiel, founder and active head of the CYO, is an active sports fan and he was eager to keep the swift-paced sport alive at Arlington Farms.

Republican Women Get Charter for Township Organization from State

An announcement that the Township Republican Women of Lake county have received their state charter was made to the board members by Mrs. P. E. Thompson, president, at a monthly meeting held at Rolling Acres, Mundelein, the home of Mrs. Ira Keller.

The news was received enthusiastically as the charter (issued by Charles Carpentier, Secretary of State) is a protection that the organization has been seeking and, also, is a recognition by the state that the group is an efficient working one. The eight townships included are: Els, Fremant, Vernon, Libertyville, Wauconda, Cuba, Antioch and Lake Villa.

The members of the township board welcomed the return of Mrs. Richard Wolfe of Deerfield and Mrs. Winston Elting of Libertyville who represented them at the Washington Republican National conference. Mrs. John H. Mitchell, Mundelein, Mrs. Glen A. Lloyd, Libertyville and Mrs. Wesley Dixon, Lake Forest, national committee-women from Illinois were among members of the township organization who attended the conference.

The board appointed a special committee to plan an active program which will soon be released to all Republican women of their townships for their active participation.
